Europe, and published a table, showing that wages were, in some places, but ten cents per day. It war inferred, then, that Buchanan's policy would bring down wages to that figure; and that he was in favor of it. Buchanan was showing the evils to the laboring man of a fluctuating currency. Wages of labor were the last to rise when the currency was inflated, and the first to fall when it contracted. Thus the labering man would suffer the worst consequences from an unregulated currency. In this connection occurs the sentence we have quoted; and no honest man, with an ounce of brains, could make out the couclasion that John Davis, Prentico & Co. came to. These demagogues think the people are fools, and treat them accordingly. Where faith may mutter o'er her mystic spells,

I could not become a Know-Nothing-"where shall I go?" Fellow-citizens, I turned my thoughts back to the old party of my father. I knew its principles to be true; some of its practices had ocen bad; but I believed its principles, once true, they must always be so, for truth cannot die. They told me that the party was dead, but I believed that it was only after the death that the resurrection could come. In concert with some of my Whig brethren, we determined to strive after its resurrection. There was no meeting calling itsell Whigh in all my region of country, which I did not attend.
There was no convention at which I was not present. Every effort to resuscitate the old party which could be made was made. The result was the Convention at Louisville on the 31 of July. It was then received to be inexpedient to present Whig candidates for the highest offices for the suf-frages of the people; and it was determined that, having asserted our old principles, it was proper that each individual should be left free to make his own choice according to his own conscience and his own principles, for the good of his country. Fellow-citizens, I have followed the Whig standard so long as it fluttered in the breeze. I would have followed it always, and I always expect to maintain Whig principles. Like an eloquent Old-Line Whig of Musouri, now acting with the Demo-crats, "I have surveyed the whole battle-field, but find no Whiz banner under which to fight. I know, fellow-Whigs, how difficult it is for you gas rid of old prejudices, either of attraction or repulsion. I have not forgotten, however, that con a question of mere availability, the Whige Kentucky were able, through their delegates a biladolphia, in 1848, to give up their idol, the man whom they leved, and who leved them, and who had done so much for the honor of Kentucky, that whenever Kentucky's name was mentioned at home or abroad, his name at once arose before ne mind's eve, and whonever his name was manoned Kentucky appeared. Fellow-Whige, do yo Henry Clay that you cannot make the same sucri fice of your predilections for the one that you distor the other u en a uch less occasion?

But, fellow-citizens, I am often asked how it i cossible that 1, my father's son, can reconcile it to nyself to vote for Mr. Buchanan, who, they say had so seriously injured and wronged my father by originating, orif not originating, by being com-plicated with and mixed up in some way or other with that vile old charge of bargain and intrigue betwixt him and Mr. Adams. In nine cases out of ten the persons who in my presence refer to the affair, know absolutely nothing about it, and when refer them to authentie records they are too much rejudiced, and love to be prejudiced too well, to w them to make the most ordinary examina ion. I have fully and carefully studied the whole distory of the bargein and intrigue slander, with the express purpose of ascertaining the truth or the falsity of the charges against Mr. Buchanan, and the result of my research has been that as an onest man I am bound to acquit him of having had any part in the original slunder, or of having done my tather any wrong, when he was summon ed before the public as a witness against him. am bound to acquit him upon the testimony of the very person whom he is said to have wronged and slandered, and however little partisan editors and partisan orators may esteem the evidence of my father himself, it is abundantly sufficient for ie, his son.

me, his son.

The charge of bargain and intrigue was first made by Mr. Kremer, in an anonymous letter, subsequently reiterated by Carter Beverly, in his celebrated Fayettevillo letter, and finally asserted by General Jackson, who resumed the responsibility of the control of t by denotal section, who resumed the responsibility of it, and to prove its truth summoned Mr. Buchanen before the public as his only witness. MONDAY,

After much preparation and activity in all the big and little councils of all the big and little Know-Nothings in L-uisville, and around the falls of the Ohio, the grand demonstration promised came off on Saturday night. It was in comparison with the torch-light procession of the same party last year -quite an insignificant affair. Indeed steep in that city, being two dollars and sixty It was the beginning of the end of Know-Nothingism in Louisville. The procession, we are informed, carried quite a number of transparencies, more than it had voters in its ranks. All in all, it was so tame an affair in point of numbers and real gennine enthusiasm, compared with last Sam's funeral, had there not been soores of followed by a moderate fall of show. drunken rowdies in the ranks who made night hidious with their yelling.

One or two speeches were partially made at the Conrt-house square, but as the boys h d met for a frolic they preferred falling into ranks and marching through the streets. This they did till aut. near midnight, and scores of them went home reeling drunk on Sunday morning.

The object of such a procession at such a time could not have been to inspirit the rank and file of their party; for they have the race in their own hands, their being re organized party candidates in the field against them.

al was last year gotten up to Intimidate on sturalizat citizens, who were inf rmal by the Know-Nothing organ of our city that there was no place for their elbows in the ribs of Americans The sail results of last year's election are still be ing visited apon our city-a terrible retribation for the conduct of that day. The Know-Nothing party have felt the effects of that day ever since and, to make a show of fairness, have this year made a just distribution of the efficers of the election-the very thing earnestly asked for by the Democratio party last year. With our candidates in the field this was denied us; and now with but some tures or four Independent candidates against their regularly organized party tickot, they provide very liberally for a great election This looke like a farce, but we are glad to see it nevertheless, for it is one step in the right direc

We chorish the hope, indeed we are certain that to-day's election will pass off quietly. We are led to believe, however, that the procession of Saturday night was intended to intimidate the adopted citizens-to in pire terror in advance of the election; for the Know-Nothing party has said that all parties entitled to a vote shall this! year deposit it in peace. Magnanimous party and I last superb arrangement!-especially when it is remembered that there is but one party in the field with candidates, and that their own.

We advise every voter, entitled to exercise fran chise, to prozent himself without fear at the polls. Tuere will be peace, and law, and order at the field, had the same liberal provisions been made.

The Journal of the other day noticed the et that ample rains had fallou in all the surroundountry, but that Louisville and her vicinity shared none of the liquid b'essieg. Dispensary on Third St. R. URBAN RESPECTFULLY SPROULE & MANDEVILLE. No. 487, Cor. of Main and Fourth Sts.,

Invites his friends and the public, who may be it want of a physician, to give him a call. His office is on the west side of Third street, between Main and the river. He will constantly keep on hand a supply o medicines for the accommodation of those whom he prescribes for at his office. Do They Do It?

ARGE AND ELEGANT STOCK of Spring and Summer Clothing and Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods. YES, THEY DO; AND MORE Less, THEY DO; AND MORE than they are tepresented, notwithstanding some people are prejudiced against Patent Medicine. Doubtless some of the medicines offered to the public are worthless as a means of curing diseases; but others are meritorious, which need only a trial to convince the most incrediblous.

We say with confidence, and have the papers to show, that the Sovination Balm Pints of P. Optills N. Go. are an excellent Family Medicine. No family should be without them, as they are convenient and very cafe and reliable for Dynemery, Flux, and all discusses common to warm weather. They do not prostrate the system, but assist a sture in the performance of its duties.

For diseases peculiar to females, the Sovere gn Balm Fills are not surpassed in virtues. Being compose! Fine black, blue, brown, and olive Dress and Frock Coats. Black Doeskin Cassimere Pants; superfine fancy Cassimere Pants, every style and quality; Business Coats, Pants, and Vests. VESTS.
